DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment and comments dated 5/3/05 have been received in application serial number 10/644,129. All comments have been taken into consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 5-7, 10-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fogarty et al. 5,824,037. Fogarty et al. discloses in the invention as claimed noting figures 1 and 3-3d comprising claim 1: a graft portion (60) including a first end, a second end and a main body (64) portion generally tubular in shape that comprises a first layer of material (18); a cuff portion (62, 66) , having a first edge and a second edge, located about the first end of the graft portion, the cuff portion comprising a second layer of material closely adjacent the main body portion (i.e. "87" or see col. 18, lines 58-61 "folded over"; see col. 9 lines 45-67 and col. 18, lines 58-67); and a supporting structure attached about the first end of the graft portion (the support structure is the frame and ring frames 12, 14); claim 5: wherein the supporting structure includes an anchoring stent attached to the cuff portion and the main body portion (see figures 3a-3d); claim 6: wherein the cuff portion comprises one or more element separate of the main body portion that are attached thereto (83); claim 7: wherein the cuff portion comprises an external sealing zone extending laterally from the main body portion, the external sealing zone configured to engage the walls of the vessel to facilitate sealing there between and reduce leakage of fluid; claim 10: wherein the cuff portion comprises a second material different than that of the main body (see col. 19 which states that the cuff liner can be fuzzy which is different than the main body of ring frames).

4. Fogarty further discloses in col 18, lines 46-67 (figure 15) that the cuffed prosthesis comprises a liner material which can be folded over. This equates to the newly added limitation in claim 11 of of "...a cuff with a second layer of material..."

5. Claims 16-17 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chobotov 6,395,019. Chobotov discloses the invention as claimed comprising: a graft portion (10) including a main body portion; an outer cuff portion (16, having a first edge and a second edge, that is located about the first end of the graft portion and attached thereto; and an anchoring stent (24) attached to the main body portion and outer cuff portion, the anchoring stent extending proximally therefrom (see figure 1-2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 19-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fogarty et al. '037 in view of Lenker et al. '158. Fogarty et al. has been disclosed above however Fogarty does not specify that the outer cuff portion is folded over the main body portion. Lenker teaches that a stent graft may be provided with a cuff that is folded over the main body portion see figure 11b and col. 15, lines 5-15. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to fold the cuff over the main body portion of the graft because both Fogarty et al. and Lenker teach that the graft material may extend beyond the main body and by folding over the material one could provide a better wider seal for the proximal region of the prosthesis.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 8-9, 12-15 and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 5/3/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has amended claims 1 and 11. With regards to claim 1 applicant contends that: "The main body portion (tapered prosthetic module 64 of the Fogarty reference overlaps with the distal end of the proximal cuff portion such that the first or leading edge of the main body portion is well proximal to the first or leading end of the proximal cuff portion and not located thereabout ...". It is the examiners opinion that Fogarty does disclose the invention as claimed. The cuff portions (62, 66) of Fogarty do have a first and second edges. The first edge is located about the first end of the main body. The term "about" is broad and does not exclude the locations of being internally about or externally about". It does not matter whether applicant believes that the cuff extends proximally because this is not a current claim limitation.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
